Old Structure Will Be Torn Down by Contractors, Beginning Monday.

Permission was granted yesterday by the Building Inspector for the removal of the old Murphy Hotel building. The work swill begin on Monday morning. The building is the property of Nesbet & Co., of Washington, contractors for the new structure, and will be removed at once to make way for the foundations of the new hotel. The building permit has not yet been issued, but the plans are being checked and will be finally passed within the next few days.

be finally passed within the next few days.

Manager Disney stated that he had expected to turn over the old building to the contractor on June 1, but had held back over this week to aid in caring for the convention of the United Commercial Travelers, now in session. After to-morrow the building will be closed to public use. The offices are being moved into the front of the Grace Street Annex, at Eighth and Grace Streets, where they will be located pending rebuilding of the old portion of the house. The bar will be located on Eighth Street, in the store-room formerly occupied by Sydnor & Hundley's office furniture department, and the dining-rooms will take the place of the auditorium, just above. Every detail is being arranged for a prompt removal, so that guests may not be inconvenienced by the change.
